KEYNOTE TITLES

Signature keynote

The Unspoken Edge:

How the way you communicate determines the career you build

Most professionals spend their careers developing expertise that gets them to the top table — and then discover that what keeps them there is something entirely different.

Best for: Leadership conferences · Annual away days · All-organisation events · Strategic leadership events

The Trust Deficit:

Why people disengage, and the communication habits that make them stay

Talented people do not leave organisations because of strategy. They leave because of how they were communicated with.

Best for: Leadership development conferences · HR summits · Senior leader events · Leadership development events

Finding Your Voice:

The communication habits of leaders who last

There is a particular kind of silence in professional life — the silence of people who have the expertise and the insight but have been taught that their voice takes up too much room.

Best for: Women's leadership events · Diversity and inclusion conferences · Senior professional development days · Inclusive leadership events

The Five Conversations That Define a Leader:

A HACKS Code masterclass

Every leadership career is shaped by a handful of conversations — the ones where trust was built or broken. This keynote works through the five most consequential and shows exactly how to handle each one.

Best for: Leadership development days · Future leaders programmes · Senior professional cohorts · Team leadership events
